Dock Strike Hits Atlantic Coast Ports

ILA, Shippers Believed Near New Contract

Scores Of Vessels Caught In Tieup; Picketing Ordered

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—The International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) tonight ordered an Atlantic Coast strike of 45,000 dockers from Maine to Virginia. Scores of ships were caught in the tieup.

However, the negotiations continued with the union reported very close to an agreement with shippers. A quick settlement would nip almost in the bud the renewal of last November's government-interrupted strike.

The big ports of Hampton Roads Va., Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York responded all-out to the strike call. Picketing was arranged for the luxury line piers in New York where the big liners dock.

Some Parts Hang Back

But in New England the strike call was set for 8 a.m. tomorrow, when some 4,500 men are scheduled to walk out at Boston, Portland and Searsport, Me., New Bedford, Mass., and Providence, R. I.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell, in New York for a speech, issued a statement through his Washington office. It said:

"The parties . . . are close to an agreement. It is reasonable to expect that if the parties continue discussions a contract will be successfully negotiated. The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service will continue to assist the parties in their discussions. The federal government plans no further steps at this time."

Blanket Contract Issue

One of the big issues in the contract talks was the union demand for a blanket contract covering all East and Gulf Coast ports. However, a separate court injunction forbade them to force this issue with a strike.

Subsequently, 15,000 dockers south of Virginia reached contract agreements on their own with local employers and ceased to be a factor in any renewal of the original strike.

Wages were not a vital issue in the final negotiations.

One of the chief stumbling blocks was insistence by the 170-member New York Shippers Assn. that the contract concede that employers are the final judges of when and how the waterfront should be worked.

Simpson Takes Issue With Ike

(By The Associated Press) President Eisenhower's call for a program of "modern Republicanism" was surveyed by GOP Lincoln Day orators Tuesday—and at least one of them took issue with the phrase.

Rep. Richard M. Simpson (Pa.), chairman of the GOP Congressional Campaign Committee, said in Cincinnati there is no need to search for a "new label" for the Republican party.

In a speech prepared for a GOP meeting in the home town of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, Simpson said:

"The modern Republicanism in which I believe is the Republicanism of Lincoln and Taft."

At another party conclave, in New York City, the president of the National Republican Club declared "the brand of Republicanism that the nation wants is Eisenhower Republicanism."

Daniel J. Riesner, head of the New York organization, said Eisenhower's "modern Republicanism" has been contrasted by its critics with what they call "real Republicanism."

"Real Republicanism is modern Republicanism," Riesner said in his prepared text.

Britain, Canada Back U.S. Plan For Middle East

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Feb. 12 (AP)—Britain and Canada today endorsed the new U. S. compromise proposal designed to get Israel's forces out of Egypt and the Gaza Strip.

Most U. N. diplomats appeared to welcome the sudden American initiative, but cautiously withheld comment pending a statement from Israel. Israeli representatives here awaited word from Jerusalem.

The new turn of events delayed a new round of debate in the General Assembly. Delegates now expect no meeting until late in the week. French sources said they felt the plan was a step in the right direction but they wanted more clarification before supporting it.

Egypt 'Not Unhappy'

Egypt, whose foreign minister, Mahmoud Fawzi, was filled in on the U. S. plan, was reported "not unhappy" over the idea.

The Assembly has before it for debate a report from Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld confessing frustration in his efforts to bring peace to the area and cautioning delegates to go slow on sanctions against Israel.

Some leading delegates who would not be identified said that sanctions, such as economic, financial and military restrictions on Israel, are almost a dead letter. They said sanctions could never be approved by enough members of the 80-nation Assembly to be effective and that the United States shared that view.

American Proposal

The proposal as worked out by Secretary of State Dulles in consultation with President Eisenhower, State Department officials and representatives of some friendly countries, calls for the United States to give public support to the principle of free shipping in the Gulf of Aqaba.

Further, the plan would place full American backing behind U. N. action to secure Israel against any future Egyptian attack from the Gaza Strip.

Science Creates Borazon, Hardest Substance Made

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—The hardest substance ever made by man—an entirely new material—has been created by tremendous pressure and heat, General Electric scientists announced today.

It is a crystal hard enough to scratch a diamond and able to stand twice as much heat. Named "borazon," it is expected to have "far-reaching impact" in industrial polishing and cutting operations, they said.

Dr. Robert H. Wentorf, a 30-year-old physical chemist from West Bend, Wis., is credited with the discovery of borazon. A member of the GE research team which produced tiny man-made diamonds two years ago, Dr. Wentorf used a similar method to produce borazon crystals the size of grains of sand.

"What we are announcing today is not a product, it is a major scientific achievement—the cre-

Senate Moves To Dilute Ike Doctrine Fail

Committee Refuses To Cut Plan In Half, Remove Aid Feature

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—A joint Senate committee refused today to cut President Eisenhower's Middle East resolution in half and sidetrack his 200 million dollar foreign aid program for the area.

It was an important victory for the administration and pointed to eventual passage of the resolution in a form acceptable to Eisenhower.

The Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees, meeting in a joint closed session, was reported to have voted 17-11 against limiting the resolution to one section authorizing the President to employ U. S. armed forces in the Middle East if necessary to stem Communist aggression.

Four Demos Vote 'No'

The report on the vote showed 13 Republicans and 4 Democrats against stripping out the foreign aid half of the measure and 11 Democrats in favor of it.

Democrats opposing the economic section contend the administration has given Congress only a "cloudy and confused" explanation of how the 200 million dollars will be spent.

But Eisenhower said last month Congress would destroy the effectiveness of the program if it didn't keep the military authority and money aid phases in one package.

You cannot wage peace merely with arms, the President told a news conference at that time. There must be an understanding of human wants, he added.

Final Vote Put Over

The motion to split up the resolution was made by Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

A final committee vote on the resolution was put over until tomorrow.

As the committees work for the day Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) predicted there will be no more than 20 of the Senate's 96 votes against the resolution when it comes up for passage, probably next week.

At Least 6 Hurt In Train Wreck

CULLMAN, Ala., Feb. 12 (AP)—A fast passenger train derailed tonight, injuring at least six persons.

The Louisville & Nashville Pan-American, southbound from Cincinnati to New Orleans, jumped a switch at Garden City, Ala., about 12 miles south of Cullman.

At least six persons were brought to a Cullman hospital, where three were to be admitted and a fourth transferred to a hospital in Decatur, Ala. Two others were expected to be treated and released.

Officers said four or five cars of the passenger train jumped a switch, but none overturned. As reports of the accident swept this north Alabama community, five ambulances were summoned from Birmingham, and others from Arab, and Decatur, and Cullman.

U.S. Reds To Follow Independent Course

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—The American Communist party today declared its independence of Moscow.

It voted overwhelmingly in the final session of a four-day convention to do its own interpreting of Marxist-Leninist principles.

Such action—following a Communist course along independent and national lines—is commonly called "Titoism," although the American Communists did not use that term.

Max Weiss, the party's national education director, described the move as "an explicit declaration of the independent and equal status of our party in relation to the world Communist movement."

He said this ended a tradition "by which we tacitly assumed that the interpretation of Marxism-Leninism made by the Communist party of the Soviet Union was ipso facto valid and all we had to do was creatively apply their

Mistreatment Probe Widened By Marines

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C., Feb. 12 (AP)—A widening probe of reported mistreatment of recruits spread to another platoon at this sprawling Marine training base today.

A base spokesman said a fifth drill instructor is under investigation after charges were made against him by a recruit. The spokesman would not give the name of the recruit or the drill instructor.

"The incident allegedly occurred in a platoon other than recruit Platoon 399," where four drill instructors have been removed from duty pending prior charges of mistreatment, said Capt. James F. Mahoney, the base public information officer.

Four drill instructors attached to Platoon 339 were removed from duty several days ago after several recruits, including Pvt. David Lee Porter, 18, Hartford, Vt., made charges against them. Other than Porter, no names have been released.

interpretations to our conditions." Weiss introduced the resolution. It said American Communists would interpret and apply Marxist-Leninist principles "in accordance with the requirements of the American class struggle and democratic traditions."

It stressed that American Communists rejected as obsolete and incorrect old Red theories of the inevitability of war and revolution. It recognized, it said, "the possibility in our country of a peaceful constitutional transition to socialism."

One unidentified Communist gave newsmen this version of the action:

"Whether you're a Republican, Democrat or Communist, you want your party to be American."

A party spokesman said 12 or 15 of the 298 delegates voted against the resolution and that about five did not vote. He said the rest favored it.

Flames Sweep Jaguar Plant

COVENTRY, England, Feb. 12 (AP)—Fire roared through nearly half of the huge Jaguar automobile works tonight and wrecked a big segment of Britain's precious dollar-earning capacity.

The ruin further blackened the outlook in this "Detroit of Britain" where widespread unemployment already had become a bleak wintry aftermath of Suez and gasoline rationing.

Hundreds of cars, many awaiting export to the United States, were damaged.

A company spokesman said the fire was an "absolute tragedy" and damage would reach "several million dollars."

The plant normally produces about 1,000 Jaguars a week valued at $2,800,000. Up to 80 per cent are sold abroad.

Sir William Lyons, managing director, said production would be resumed shortly but on a curtailed assembly line.

The fire was discovered at dusk in the paint shop at the eastern end of the plant.

Only 50 office employees of the plant force of 4,000 were on duty. Firemen and fire-fighting equipment raced into Coventry from half a dozen neighboring towns. Firemen, many wearing special heat resistant suits, brought the flames under control after three hours.

Oil Producers Contend Price Hikes Justified

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Spokesmen for independent oil producers contended today that industry costs have outrun income and the recent oil price boost was justified regardless of what happened in the Middle East.

Justified or not, Senate investigators were told that the higher prices will raise the fuel bill of the armed services by $5 million dollars a year, hike costs of municipal power plants by nearly 30 millions, and put some of these plants out of business.

Representatives of the later suggested maybe the government ought to slap on controls and roll prices back.

Witnesses with conflicting views were called in by the Senate Monopoly and Public Lands subcommittees.

Under Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), they are looking into the oil lift to Europe, necessitated by the closing of the Suez Canal and the Iraq pipeline, and complaints that oil companies used the resulting oil shortage in Europe as an excuse for hoisting prices here at home.

The independents objected to such charges. They protested, too, that they are being blamed for what Russell B. Brown called "the failures" in the oil-for-Europe program whereas they said the blame rests with 15 large oil companies the government organized into the Middle East Emergency Committee to help Europe through a crisis.

Brown is general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, an organization of 7,500 independents, mostly producers, and 4,500 associates.

East Railroads Ask 40% Boost In 1st Class Fares

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today took under advisement an urgent plea by six Eastern railroads that they be allowed to jump their first class passenger fares 40 per cent over competing roads—and see what happens.

Such an increase for Pullman and parlor car travel would also top the airline rates between major cities in the East.

Railway labor and railway management collided head-on—for the first time in a rate-making proceeding—over the proposals, advanced as a "bold move" to wipe out multimillion dollar passenger service deficits which have occurred in every year since World War II.

James L. Highsaw of the Railway Labor Executives Assn. told the ICC in final argument that the unions traditionally leave rate-

USSR Charges Military Bases Imperil Peace

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Feb. 12 (AP)—The Soviet Union tonight accused the United States of aggressive actions around the world and called for a General Assembly debate on the situation.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov made the charges in a letter to Prince Wan Waithayakon, president of the U. N. General Assembly. He asked for action by the Assembly with-out delay.

Kuznetsov charged that the United States has committed aggressive actions by building military bases in Western Europe, Turkey, Iran, Japan and Okinawa capable of using atomic weapons. He charged also that American bases in England, France, West Germany, Italy, Turkey and Iran constitute a threat to peace.

Kuznetsov complained that the U. S. budget contained unprecedented expenses for war preparations. He said money was being appropriated to build new bases in Brazil, a jet plane base in Pakistan, and Air Force bases in Taiwan and West Germany.

Kuznetsov did not present a resolution. The procedure will be for the Assembly Steering Committee to decide whether to recommend consideration of this new item. The committee will meet tomorrow.

Decision Up To Assembly

It will be up to the Assembly, now attempting to wind up the eleventh regular session, to decide finally whether it wants to take on the new complaint.

The Soviet Union already has a complaint against the United States before the Assembly's special Political Committee. This item charges intervention by the United States in the domestic affairs of Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, Romania and the Soviet Union and alleged subversive activity by the United States against those countries.

The special Political Committee put the first Russian item at the bottom of its agenda. It is expected to be taken up there later this month.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 12 (AP)—Edwin C. Hill, 72, radio news commentator, died at a hospital today.

A radio broadcaster and syndicate feature writer since 1932, he earlier had been a reporter and later a feature writer for the New York Sun. He also had been a director of the Fox News Reel and a scenario editor for the Fox Film Corp.

making to management but that the present "drastic proposals" potentially affect labor. He said the higher rates may put first class rail passenger service on the petitioning lines out of business.

Robert Brooks of the New York Central retorted: "If the increase is not put on, that is exactly what's going to happen."

Brooks contended the railroads should not be required to "subsidize" passenger travel with freight revenues, and asked:

"If you don't raise the rates, how are you ever going to know that this (passenger) traffic could be made to pay for itself?"

The railroad lawyers faced a barrage of critical questions from the bench. Commissioner Richard F. Mitchell expressed the view they had not "justified" a further increase of 40 per cent in the fares.

White House Assails Reds' Mideast Plan

Cooperative Big 4 Effort To Guarantee Peace Is Proposed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—The United States swiftly turned down today Russia's terms for cooperating with the West to end the dangerous Middle Eastern tensions.

The White House denounced the six-point Soviet proposal as a transparent bid to wreck President Eisenhower's plan to guard the region against Communist aggression.

Speaking a few hours after the Russian proposal was made public, presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said:

"Obviously this is a Russian move to try to discredit or stop the Eisenhower plan for the Middle East."

Hagerty's comment, issued at the President's vacation headquarters at Thomasville, Ga., summed up the cold reception to the Soviet proposal which was evident at the State Department.

Top officials after a quick study labeled it a Soviet "propaganda hedgehog" aimed at persuading Arab countries that Moscow can be counted on as their only real friend in the area.

These officials forecast that Arab governments would not be fooled by Moscow's effort to wrap into a new package such repeatedly rejected demands as dismantling of Western bases in the area, withdrawal of Allied forces and a scrapping of all defense alliances.

The Soviets also called for Big Four cooperation in promoting an economic development program for the area.

Initial congressional reaction clearly reflected the administration's view although Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said he "wouldn't like to see the proposal turned down cold."

Russia Proposes Big 4 Cooperate In Mideast

MOSCOW, Feb. 12 (AP)—The Soviet Union proposed today a cooperative Big Four effort to guarantee peace in the explosive Middle East. It would include agreement on an economic development program, ending of arms shipments and junking of Western bases in the area.

Outlining a six-point Middle East proposal to the Supreme Soviet-Parliament, Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov said the Russians are ready "to examine every initiative which would ease relations between the Soviet Union and the three Western powers."

"But while our peaceful foreign policy is meeting with stubborn opposition from the ruling circles of certain capitalist states, we will continue to develop our glorious armed forces and hold our rifles in our hands," Shepilov said, and then, to loud applause from the 1,300 deputies, he added: "And not only our rifles."

The mildness of Shepilov's long statement of foreign policy suggested the Soviet Union, perhaps wanting a cooling off period, is heading into another peace offensive.

Seemingly conciliatory on some points and unyielding on others, Shepilov outlined these six points to the Middle East:

1. Maintenance of peace in the Near and Middle East through settling disputed questions exclusively by peaceful means, by negotiation.
2. Noninterference in the internal affairs; respect for sovereignty and independence.
3. Renunciation of any attempts to include these countries in military blocs with the participation of the great powers.
4. Liquidation of foreign bases and withdrawal of foreign troops.
5. Mutual renunciation of the supply of arms.
6. Cooperation toward economic development without making any political, military or other conditions whatsoever "incompatible with the dignity and sovereignty of these countries."

Guard Says Its Recruits Get More Training Than ROTC Second Lieutenant

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—The National Guard Assn. said today the Army is demanding more training for Guard recruits than now required of second lieutenants from the Reserve Officers Training Corps.

The association fired this new round in a row with the Pentagon over training requirements which reached fever pitch when Secretary of Defense Wilson remarked that Guard enlistments amounted to "sort of a scandal" during the Korean War.

Wilson said, and Guard officials angrily denied, that some youths enlisted in the Guard to avoid being drafted for service in Korea. Wilson later softened his comment but reiterated that the Guard training system is inadequate.

The association said in a statement today that a Guard private "who attends a full 48 armory drills and 15 days field training per year over a period of four years ends up with more military training than the college boy who joins the ROTC as a freshman, and graduates four years later as a second lieutenant."

The association continued: "The Army now wants to add six months' full-time training to the guardsman's training schedule."

"If this requirement stands, any private first class in the National Guard with four years service will have received more military training than the ROTC officer who has been commissioned, called to active duty, been graduated from a four-month basic branch service school and who

Angry Spinster Talks Fugitive Into Giving Up

KINGMAN, Ariz., Feb. 12 (AP)—"I was furious when that disreputable young man had the audacity to sit in my antique rosewood chair."

That's how tiny, 82-year-old spinster Louise Freeland describes her brush with a gun-toting escaped convict whom she talked into surrendering to sheriff's officers last night.

Charles E. Turner, 34, is in the Mohave County Jail, charged with assault with a deadly weapon. Turner told officers he escaped June 4 from the Ft. Leavenworth federal prison where he had been sent on what he described as an "Army rap from Japan."

Held as a material witness was Joyce Hitchcock, 17, Helena, Mont., who told Sheriff Frank Porter that Turner kidnapped her at gunpoint in Helena Thursday and drove her to Arizona. Porter quoted her as saying Turner raped her.

Turner signed a statement admitting the kidnapping, officers said. Sheriff's officers continued questioning the girl.

Court Orders Norfolk To Integrate Schools

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 12 (AP)—Norfolk, like Newport News, must abolish racial segregation in its public schools by Aug. 15.

U. S. District Judge Walter E. Hoffman fixed the deadline in enjoining the school boards of the two cities from separating pupils by race.

The jurist's actions, forecast last month when he ruled Virginia's new pupil placement law was unconstitutional, were taken against the Newport News School Board yesterday and against the Norfolk School Board today.

Atty. Gen. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. said both decisions will be appealed.

Beall Urges President To Oppose Sanctions

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower was urged today by Sen. Beall (R-Md) to oppose any sanctions against Israel. Beall said he sent telegrams to the President, Secretary of State Dulles and Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. representative to the United Nations.

Greek Cypriot's Death Sentence Commuted

NICOSIA, Cyprus, Feb. 12 (AP)—The death sentence of a Greek Cypriot condemned for killing a British policeman was commuted to life imprisonment tonight.

Sir John Harding, governor of Cyprus, ordered the commutation for Nicos Tsardellis.

Herter Endorsed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today approved the nomination of former Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts to be undersecretary of state.

17 Nations Back Trade Program

PARIS, Feb. 12 (AP)—The economic ministers of 17 nations today pledged support of a plan to turn non-Communist Europe into one vast free trade zone of 300 million people. It is potentially the world's richest market.

Sir David Eccles of Britain called for a treaty by July to launch the plan to tear down tariffs. But he made one reservation that threatened to delay the program.

The chairman of Britain's Board of Trade told the Organization for Economic Cooperation only industrial goods should be included. That would leave tariffs on agricultural products.

Economic Minister Jens Otto Krag of Denmark objected strenuously. Krag said Denmark as an agricultural country could not join under such conditions. Portugal, Italy and Greece took the same view.

Krag conceded Britain's commitments to import agricultural products from Commonwealth nations created a special case. In brief, tariff-free agricultural products from Europe might undercut Commonwealth exports.

Commerce Minister Gunnar Lange of Sweden and Finance Minister Paul Ramadier of France saw hopes of a compromise on the question.

McKeldin Endorses Plan For Antietam Observance

HAGERSTOWN, Feb. 12 (AP)—A Club here, McKeldin said it had been brought to his attention that the club was joining other citizens of Hagerstown in planning a large scale observance of the centennial five years from now. He added:

"The living nation is neither land or people. It is the collective memory of all the great and good whose lives have made it honorable in the eyes of the human race."

"To perpetuate this collective memory is to perpetuate the nation by giving renewed vitality to what is finest and noblest in it."

Speaking on Abraham Lincoln's birthday, McKeldin said the Battle of Antietam gave the 16th President opportunity to issue the long-contemplated Emancipation Proclamation.

When the Confederate Army had been stopped at Antietam, McKeldin said the proclamation took on "dignity and force."

"It instantly transformed the war from a defense of the Union into a crusade for liberty, rallying all lovers of liberty to the Union side."

"This is, as I see it, the tremendous significance of Antietam. Here is the spot where the Federal Army was transfigured. It came to this field merely the champion of the political principal of the union; it left this field the champion of the moral principal that all men are created equal."

Truman Says U.S. Has Duty To Ease Tension

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 12 (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said tonight that tension in the Middle East "can be eased" and that this country has a duty to use its influence to settle the conflict between Israel and Arab countries.

In a speech prepared for delivery at a combined Jewish Appeal fund-raising dinner, Truman also called for a continuing strong defense against communism, regardless of cost, and a "strong and consistent foreign policy."

Earlier, in a news conference at the palatial Miami Beach home of Jacob M. Arvey, Chicago Democratic party leader, Truman had no comment on the proposal by Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov for a mutual hands-off program in the Middle East.

Liberian Invitation Accepted By Nixon

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Feb. 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters announced today that Vice President Nixon will visit Liberia next month.

James C. Hagerty, press secretary, said the invitation was extended by Liberia's ambassador to the United States, George Padmore.

Nixon will go to Liberia after attending March 6 ceremonies marking the granting of independence to the African Gold Coast. Those ceremonies will be at Accra in the new state of Ghana.

Fairless Would Let Nations In Favor Have Communism

TOKYO, Feb. 12 (AP)—Benjamin Fairless said today "if any country wants communism, my answer to that is to let them have communism."

The chairman of President Eisenhower's Citizens Committee on Foreign Aid hinted at a news conference the committee's March 1 report may recommend a cut in American assistance to uncommitted Asian nations, the neutrals in East-West affairs.

"I think personally the free world is definitely winning the cold war," said Fairless, former head of the U.S. Steel Corp., at the closing stage of a world study tour launched Dec. 27.

"Undoubtedly," he said, "Europe would have gone Communist" except for America's postwar Marshall Plan support.

"I don't know if similar aid can save Asia. It is very hard to save anybody unless they want to be saved."

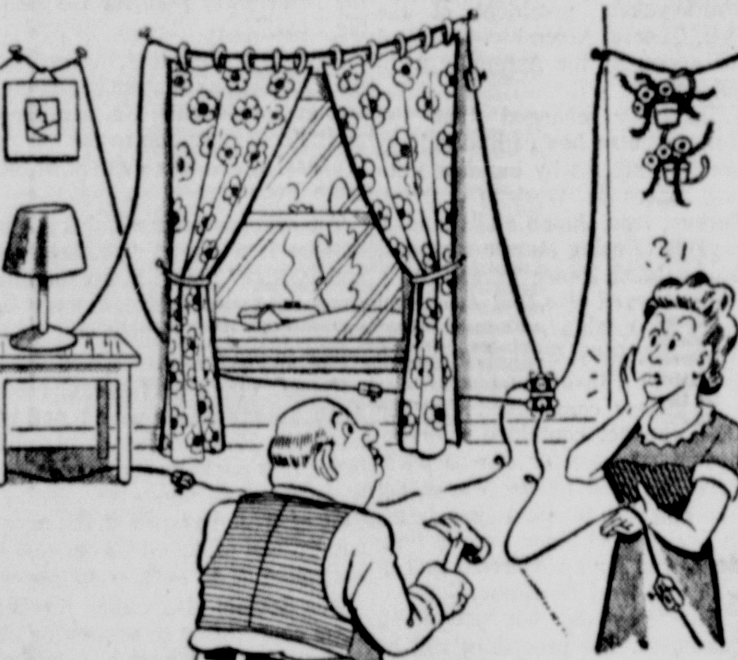

"As far as you and I and the United States are concerned, we are attempting to help people help themselves."

"If they want freedom we, to the extent of our abilities, are going to help them remain free. If any country wants communism, my answer to that is to let them have communism."

The budget President Eisenhower submitted to Congress Jan. 16 asks a hike of 256 million dollars in foreign aid spending to a total of $4,363,000,000 for military and economic help to friendly countries.

Fairless confirmed that the question of aid to neutrals will be a "part of our report." He declined to preview any recommendations that will be made.

Appeals Court Hears Debate In Reddick Case

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 12 (AP)—The Court of Appeals was told today that lifting an injunction against Dr. Robert H. Reddick's Board of Homeopathic Medical Examiners could open the door for "a mass licensing of unqualified doctors between now and June."

Norman P. Ramsey, former deputy attorney general, made the statement during arguments on an appeal by Dr. Reddick from two injunctions issued in Baltimore City Circuit Court.

One lower court order enjoined Reddick from acting as secretary-treasurer of the Board of Medical Examiners for the State Homeopathic Medical Society. The other ordered officers of the society to stop conducting examinations and granting licenses to practice medicine in Maryland.

On Feb. 1 Gov. McKeldin signed into law a bill abolishing the Homeopathic Medical Society and vesting sole authority for issuing doctor's licenses in the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty.

The law will not go into effect until June 1. No law abolishing a board may be enacted as an emergency measure.

Judges of the high court today asked Ramsey if the new law made the Reddick case a moot question.

Noting the effective date of the bill is June, Ramsey said: "Heaven only knows how many unqualified doctors would be given licenses between now and June with the only qualification that they passed kindergarten."

Ramsey prosecuted the Reddick case last summer. He recently left the attorney general's office for private practice but is being retained on cases he handled as deputy attorney general.

Dr. Reddick was represented by attorney John J. O'Connor of Baltimore, who argued from briefs prepared by another Baltimore attorney, Hyman Pressman.

Pressman represented Dr. Reddick in the two lower court actions but withdrew as counsel Dec. 11 on the heels of a second contempt citation against the former State psychiatrist.

Dr. Reddick was fired as chief psychiatrist at Eastern Shore Hospital after Judge Joseph R. Byrnes ruled that he was not a member of the valid board of medical examiners and had issued licenses as head of a "rump" board.

Dr. Reddick did not give up his State job until the courts refused to intervene for him and now has an appeal pending from the court ruling upholding his discharge.

Before taking the Reddick appeal under advisement today, the high court judges wanted to know what effect their ruling would have on licenses issued by the Reddick board.

Ramsey said the Reddick board had issued 83 licenses, 59 of which were granted after the attorney general had obtained a temporary injunction against the board. He said the other 24 licenses were issued while Dr. Reddick was under a Dorchester County Circuit Court injunction.

Ramsey admitted that Judge Byrnes' decree said the rights of doctors licensed by the "rump" board were not affected by the injunction orders.

Pressed by Judge Hall Hammond as to the status of these licenses, Ramsey said the attorney general "took it on his own to rid the records of these invalid documents." He said court clerks had been ordered to expunge them from the records.

Ramsey said these "administrative steps" were not subject to review by the high court in this case but might come before the court if "someone chooses to contest our actions."

Youth Fined $25 For Hanging Body Of Dog On Pole

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12 (AP)—Edward B. Freeman Jr., 17, was cleared of a charge of cruelty to animals today when the judge ordered the charge dismissed because the State could not prove a small dog found hanging on a pole had not been dead before the hanging.

But Magistrate Henry L. Rogers fined young Freeman $25 and costs for disorderly conduct after he admitted hanging the body of the dog, which he said had been dead some time, from a telegraph pole.

"I don't know why I did it—I thought it would be funny," he said. "I'm sorry."

10 Teen-Agers, Youth, 21, Held In Burglaries

ODENTON, Md., Feb. 12 (AP)—Ten Anne Arundel County teenagers and a 21-year-old youth have been arrested in connection with a series of 19 burglaries in this area in the past two years.

Police said today the undercover investigation, which began with the arrest of one youth for a tavern burglary Feb. 4, spread like an octopus as one youth implicated another.

Police said they recovered stolen guns, a slot machine and a cash register which had been tossed in to Patuxent River. Detectives said they also recovered $60 in nickels on one boy.

Seven of those arrested are juveniles and six of them are being held at the Maryland Training School pending a hearing before Circuit Judge Benjamin Michaelson in Annapolis, Feb. 28. Police said the seventh was released in custody of his parents, ran away from home, and had been found in Virginia.

Police said two other alleged members of the robbery gang are in the service and the state's attorney has been asked to determine whether they should be returned to stand trial.

The remaining two, held on bail totaling $4,000 on eight charges of breaking and entering were identified as John L. Duvall, 19, of Severn, and Arthur Davis, 21, of Old Washington Road.

Police Chief Wilbur Wade said the total loot in the series of burglaries dating back to 1955 was estimated at more than $1,700, and included cash and merchandise.

He said the gang did not operate as a unit and did not pool its loot but paired off to do various jobs.

They struck three times at the Odenton Teen Center and twice at the Gambrills Athletic Club, Odenton Elementary School and Jarm's Store in Gambrills.

All the burglaries were in the Odenton - Gambrills - Severn area, police said. Other places robbed included restaurants, a tavern, and a service station.

LONDON, Feb. 12 (AP)—When Shelley Scott, 15, a Hollywood girl, enrolled in a fashionable girls' school at West Malvern, her first instructions were: "take off the lipstick and wear the earrings only when you are in bed."

Shelley explained her ears are pierced and she must wear the earrings sometimes to keep the holes open. Her father is Zachary Scott, an actor appearing on the London stage.

HARPERS FERRY, W. Va., Feb. 12 (AP)—Tourists visiting the new Harper's Ferry national monument, now being built, will bring in a half-million dollars a year to the area, in the opinion of a local business official.

W. D. Cowherd, president of the Jefferson County Chamber of Commerce, last night urged nearby communities to prepare for the expected tourist rush. He said the town of Harper's Ferry could not accommodate them.

The National Park Service is spending $225,000 on the monument.

Russia To Pay Up

WARSAW, Feb. 12 (AP) — For years after World War II the Soviet Union sent troops, supplies and merchandise across Poland to East Germany without paying full rail costs. This was halted by last year's Soviet-Polish economic agreement. This week representatives of the three countries will meet here to settle up. Responsible sources say Moscow owes Poland about 400 million dollars.

Because they have no firearms, natives of the Marquesas islands in the Pacific harpoon wild cattle for food.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (INS) — Public Relations fellow called up the other day and said, "Bill, I read your sports column every day. Did it ever occur to you to branch out, you know, write something not about sports? Oh, say, a piece about air conditioning?"

It was snowing very hard at the time, so we said no.

"Air conditioning's a good story," he swore. "It's got humor, pathos, drama, and sex."

We told him that all our air conditioner did was cool.

"You're ignoring the history behind air conditioning," he said, rustling his notes. "Do you know that snow was one of the earliest refrigerants? Roman emperors had it brought down in carloads from the Alps, had it piled around banquet halls on hot nights, and beautiful slave girls fanned it in the direction of the gluttons."

"Edison invented one of the earliest window air conditioners to save the life of the daughter of one of his employees. The kid took sick, the weather turned terribly hot, and she couldn't be moved from the stifling hospital room. Looked like curtains until Edison showed up and—against violent objections—ordered the hospital people to close the doors and all the windows except one, which he left partly open. He put a box-like thing in the opening. Inside was a cake of ice and an electric fan."

"The kid lived but that was about all, for a time. She couldn't get interested in going on in life. So Edison would visit her and tell her stories about picnics in the woods and trips to the seashore. He made it very realistic, you see, he put pine needles on the ice when he talked of picnics, and for the talks about trips to the beach he sprinkled a chemical mixture over the ice to fill the room with salty sea breezes."

There was more in this man. "You know the Worthington people? They've air conditioned a South African gold mine hundreds of feet below the ground—down where it was so hot the diggers were dying like flies. How did they do it? They put their air conditioning equipment on the mine's railroad cars, so it goes wherever the fellows must dig. It stopped prostrations, death and colds."

We know a lady who gets colds just by looking at an ad for an air conditioner, and said so.

"Nonsense," he stormed. "I have a good five pounds of figures that prove without question that people in air conditioned houses catch fewer colds, are less bothered by allergies, and those with lumbago and rheumatism don't suffer nearly as much. That goes back to the Duke of Milan," he said, with another rustle of notes.

"The Duke called in Leonardo da Vinci one day and commanded him to do something about the sweltering palace. Leonardo designed a 12-foot water wheel sort of thing that scooped up cool air from a dungeon and pushed it through ducts to the rooms upstairs."

"Indian emperors hung up wet grass mats to cool their palaces. Ancient Egyptians fought the heat by building early models of our aeronautical wind tunnels into their houses. Matt Lawler, he's a vice president at Worthington, you know, says there's going to be 250,000 American homes with central air conditioning this year. And do you realize that since the war it has become almost impossible to operate any business establishment anywhere without air conditioning. Even the newer jails get it, subway cars, baseball dugouts, museums, A-bomb factories, and the electric brain. What do you think, man?"

"I think it has stopped snowing," we said.

Ship But No Coastline

SAN MARINO, Feb. 12 (AP) — An Italian shipper and a Greek ship owner want to register in landlocked San Marino and fly its flag on their ships. The Grand Council of this tiny, Italian-surrounded mountaintop republic expects to grant at least one request although it has no port, no coastline.

Reverse Driver Wins Her Case

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Feb. 12 (AP) — Mrs. Sally Cusack who drove her car 26 blocks backwards when the gears wouldn't send it forward won dismissal from a reckless driving charge yesterday.

Mrs. Cusack, acting as her own attorney, testified she was en route to do charitable work downtown when the gears locked. So she put the car in reverse and drove backwards until she reached her destination.

Municipal Court Judge George M. Paradise ruled, after hearing Mrs. Cusack's story, that her manner of driving was slow, cautious and in the proper lane of traffic.

Names For Twins

JERUSALEM, Feb. 12 (AP) — A 27-year-old Israeli immigrant woman from Morocco, Miriam Zetoun, gave birth here to twin girls.

Her husband Raymond wanted to name them (in Hebrew) "No Alternative" and "What Can I Do?"

The doctor talked him out of that and he substituted "Good Morning" and "Good Night," explaining he had no regular job and didn't feel very cheerful with three other children to feed.

Speeder Victim Of Cop's Strategy

ELKHART, Ind., Feb. 12 (AP) — Five police cars going 100 miles an hour at times failed to catch a speeder this week.

A short while later, Police Capt. Van Kessler spotted a car answering the speeder's description at a stop light, and decided on strategy.

"You certainly did a good job in getting away from our police men," Kessler told the driver.

"I'll have to compliment you on your driving."

Kessler said the driver, Andrew Riniger, 20, Elkhart, grinned and replied, "Yes, but I had to do almost 130 to do it."

Kessler booked him on a reckless driving charge.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 12 (INS)—Gordon Jenkins made the arrangement. A very pleasant visitor at my home was Edward Everett Tanner III who, under the names of Patrick Dennis and Virginia Rowan, wrote "Auntie Mame," "The Loving Couple," "House Party" and "Guestward, Ho!" Freddie Brisson met the author and his wife at the plane and brought them directly to my house. Mrs. Tanner expects her second child in April.

"Were you named for Edward Everett Hale?" I asked author Tanner. He said Hale was his grandfather's godfather. He told me his reason for being in Hollywood is to write the adaptation for "The Loving Couple" which Freddie Brisson will make as a motion picture. Freddie has had offers for release from every studio.

"I feel I know you," Tanner told me, "because you gave me my start." When I looked bewildered, he said, "My first job was advertising your book, 'The Gay Illiterate.'"

Harry Belafonte has had several meetings with Ed Muhl about starring in "Emperor Jones." Muhl, head of Univesal-International, has made the singer a definite offer.

Belafonte was paid $150,000 for "Island in the Sun" by Darryl Zanuck, and 20th will get that back from the songs alone. Belafonte sings them for the first time at the Coconut Grove. But U-I, I am told, will have to pay much more than $150,000 for Harry.

I was up to my neck in the record business Sunday. At luncheon at the Beverly Hills hotel I met Joe Carlton of RCA-Victor, Hugo Winterhalter, of the same company, Ed Slattery and Mickey Scoop, new heads of Robbins, Feist and Miller, the MGM record company.

Later they came to my house for cocktails and we played Imperial Records' newest album of Fats Domino. I received the first copy and Jimmy McHugh practically wore it out playing his "I'm in the Mood for Love."

Then we had dinner with the Lee Gillettes, the Voyle Gilmores, and the Eddie McHargs, of Capitol Records, at the Villa Capri. Voyle Gilmore had high praise for Judy Garland's new album with an "Alone" theme.

went into the hospital. She is taller than her mother, Lana Turner.

Pretty Carol Lee Ladd has had several dinner dates with Liam (Bill) O'Brien. She is one of the nicest girls in our town.

Mrs. John Payne is in St. John's Hospital for minor surgery.

Mrs. Robert Cummings, who expects her fifth child on March 1, tells me the builders are racing to build another room. The Cummings have three girls and one boy, so she's hoping for another son.

Let me tell you a secret. Eddie Fisher has had several big TV offers. He may do a show like the popular Perry Como hour.

Love to hear him sing, so I hope he signs.

Cobina Wright is hosting a dinner dance for Merle Oberon and Erno Pagliaci at Arthur Cameron's house Saturday — Merle's birthday.

Sen. Friend Loses Fight On Blind Bill

State Sen. Clifford Friend (R-Garrett), who pictured himself as "the tightest-fisted, hardest-headed, meanest senator in this body," tried in vain Monday to get the Maryland Senate not to reassign to committee a bill which would give financial aid to blind persons.

Sen. Charles M. See (R-Allegany) had sponsored the bill, which would guarantee blind persons an income of at least $75 a month with the State making up what they didn't earn. The judicial proceedings committee, of which See and Friend are members, had approved it.

Sen. Turnbull (D-Balto County) asked that he be sent to his finance committee for study since it involved money.

Friend, in opposing the move, said the welfare department had said the bill would cost the State no more than $900 a year and that the Maryland Senate had passed much more costly bills without so much fuss.

"We are paying to the State Welfare Department millions to buy degradation," Friend said, "to pay unmarried women to raise illegitimate children . . . yet we would argue against giving $900 to the poor blind people of this state."

Despite his plea, the Senate voted to send the bill to the finance committee.

Public Meeting Slated Friday On LaVale Plan

A public meeting to explain the amended District 29 zoning bill which calls for an elected zoning board will be held Friday at 7:30 p. m. in Parkside School, LaVale.

The LaVale Civic Improvement Association has been back of the plan to set up LaVale and District 29 into a zoned area.

Originally, a senate bill introduced by State Sen. Charles M. See at the request of the association added zoning powers to the three-member board of the LaVale Sanitary Commission.

Some Opposed Bill
At the first public meeting held on the bill, much of the opposition to the measure came from residents of the Winchester Road section.

This is a portion of District 29 which came under the LaVale Sanitary District, and where residents pay a tax of 10 cents on each $100 of assessed property valuation. Much of the opposition to the water bill came from this area.

Subsequently, Sen. See reported to the association that he had received a petition containing over 100 names of persons opposing the proposed zoning law and asking that Winchester Road section be eliminated from its coverage.

At a special meeting of the board of directors of the LaVale Civic Improvement Association, the members voted to amend the bill to eliminate the Sanitary Commission as the zoning body.

Would Elect Board
The zoning board would be comprised of a group of elected residents of the District 29, according to the civic improvement association.

Walter N. Hedrick, association chairman, reported that 13 Winchester Road opponents of the bill appeared at the special meeting and when the sanitary commission was eliminated as a zoning board, ten of them were for keeping their section in the bill.

The amended bill keeps all of District 29 in the zoned area, but calls for an elected zoning board.

Coal Claim Pressed

LONDON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Retired diplomat Sir John K. Dunlop is flying to India to press his claim to a rich coalfield in Korba. He says the field discovered in 1912 and assayed in 1926 never was exploited because of the depression and World War II, but he was promised a lease. Instead the Madhya Pradesh State government has said all new coal developments must be state-owned.

Hot Rod Racing Is Condemned By Safety Council

CHICAGO, Feb. 12 (AP)—The National Safety Council today condemned drag racing and other speed competition by hot rod clubs.

The council issued a statement after a poll of more than 1,500 city and state traffic officials, school authorities and local safety councils. The poll showed that many hot rod clubs engage in useful activities such as promoting traffic safety but that more than 80 per cent are interested primarily in racing, the council said.

"The National Safety Council opposes speed contests," the council said. "Since speed violations are so often involved in traffic accidents, the National Safety Council cannot condone speeding even in the name of competition."

Immigrant Visas Increase Sharply

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Immigrant visas issued to foreigners totaled 332,499 in the 12 months ending last June 30. This was the highest number for any year since World War II.

The State Department reported the total today. It disclosed that the big increase was accounted for mainly by visas issued under the refugee relief program which expired Dec. 31. A total of 84,243 persons were granted visas under this emergency legislation.

The biggest batch of immigrant visas—161,807—were issued to residents of countries which are not limited to an immigration quota. These include Mexico which got 65,570 visas, Canada 30,769 and Cuba 15,532.

Three persons were admitted to Memorial Hospital Monday afternoon after sustaining injuries in unusual accidents.

Leo Cave, 48, Luke, was admitted after he suffered back injuries when he jumped from a freight train.

Attaches said Cave, who is employed at the Devon Club in Luke, started to jump from the train, which was standing still, and slipped.

Mrs. Helen Ervin, wife of Joseph Ervin, Keyser, was admitted to the institution after she choked on a piece of apple.

Road Construction Costs In County Shows Increase

Spiraling construction costs are reflected in Allegany County's participation in the first three years of the Maryland 12-year road program.

Of the nine major projects in the county's primary highway system scheduled when it was released in October 1952, three and a part of two others have been undertaken as of December 31, 1956, with two more scheduled this year, the last of the first four years.

As the estimated cost for the first four years which started in 1954 the State Roads Commission engineers figured the nine projects would cost $5,320,000.

Actual expenditures for the first three years came to $5,334,812. To be spent this year is an estimated $2,137,000.

The State Roads Commission gave an Allegany County example of the excess expenditures above the original estimates, a condition that has existed statewide in the 12-year program.

Estimated on the 2.59 miles of the Route 40 on the east slope of Martins Mountain was a total cost of $750,000. The actual expenditure authorization for the project was $1,394,528.

The original estimate called for $635,000 to be spent for construction, $95,000 for engineering and $20,000 for rights of way.

Actually it came to $1,149,469 for construction, $187,099 for engineering and $68,960 for rights of way.

The State Roads Commission explained that the construction cost increase on this job was caused by excessive cuts through rock.

But actually, three first four-year jobs (one of them a partial contract) plus three second four-year projects were undertaken during the first three years.

The first job was resurfacing Route 40 from the Garrett County line to Frostburg. This was estimated to cost $60,000, with $52,000 for construction, and $8,000 for engineering.

Actually, $90,319 was spent for construction, $13,848 for engineering for a total of $104,167, which was $44,167 over the original estimate.

The next project (let in a group of contracts) was resurfacing and modifying curves on Route 220 from 1 mile south of Rawlings to 1.415 miles north of

Medical Group Halts Mass Inoculations

GREENSBURG, Pa., Feb. 12 (AP)—The Westmoreland County Medical Society has halted mass antipolio inoculations at the Robertshaw-Fulton Controls Co. in nearby Youngwood, Pa., a plant official said today.

Plant manager Frank Post said he has been informed by a physician retained by the company that the physician cannot continue with the inoculation program.

The Society passed a resolution last week declaring:

"All mass inoculations by members of the Westmoreland County Medical Society be accomplished only for individuals in whom it would create a financial hardship to otherwise secure the vaccinations."

Dr. Louis Naples, speaking for the Society, said the group is urging all persons to obtain antipolio vaccinations but to get the shots from the family physician.

Hiroshima Operations

the 1945 blast will undergo plastic surgery here this spring. The 18 were unable to accompany the 25 original Hiroshima maidens to the United States for operations last year.

Bruce Earl Boyer, 72, retired Elkins Division trainmaster for the Western Maryland Railway, died at 8:45 p. m. Monday in a tourist home in Charlottesville, Va.

Mr. Boyer, a resident of Elkins, was to have entered the University of Virginia Hospital yesterday. He had been ill several months.

He retired July 1, 1954 after working 52 years for the railroad and its predecessor, the West Virginia Central and Pittsburgh Railway.

He served as general yardmaster at Thomas, Chieftan, W. Va. and Bowest, Pa., before coming to Cumberland on May 16, 1937, as trainmaster, a position he held until September 15, 1942.

At that time he went to Elkins as trainmaster, serving in that capacity until his retirement.

More Maneuvering On Civil Rights

Activities of two Senate subcommittees hold special interest this week. One is a subcommittee of the Rules Committee, meeting today to consider changes in the Senate rules to limit filibusters. The other is a subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee which opens hearings tomorrow on civil rights legislation. Sen. Thomas C. Hennings (D-Mo.) is chairman of both subcommittees.

The civil rights hearings are likely to be protracted. If, while they are in progress, the Rules Committee can be induced to report a really effective cloture rule, the way may be cleared for adoption of the President's civil rights program—a program which is known to command majority support in both houses of Congress.

Since the opening of the 1957 session definite hints have come from southern senators that they would be willing to allow the Administration bill to come to a vote in the upper house, after going on record against it in speeches of moderate length, if they could get assurances that proposals for drastic curbs on filibusters would not be pressed at the present session.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland has told President Eisenhower: he is confident that the Senate will pass a civil rights bill this year. He confesses that he does not yet know just how this is to be accomplished, but says he will have a clearer idea as the session moves along.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky
What Did Not Happen

During the Korean War, Red China intervened, took over the war, defeated the United Nations police (consisting mostly of American troops) and entered upon prolonged negotiations over prisoners of war, negotiations which are being continued to this very day. Did the United Nations impose sanctions upon Red China? Not at all! Red China is not a member of the United Nations; therefore it could seize Tibet; it could take a chunk of territory out of Burma; it could create a sphere of influence in Nepal without suffering any consequences. It could stir up a war in Indo-China and permit its territory to be used as a military base.

There is an enormous advantage in not being a member of the United Nations because then it is possible to engage in imperialist war enterprises and not suffer any consequences. Red China subsequent to these acts of imperialism conducted an active campaign to be admitted into the United Nations and has encountered considerable sympathy and support, particularly among those Afro-Asian nations which apparently favor rewarding such improprieties by permitting a country to shoot its way into the United Nations.

Furthermore, there has always been a cynical element in the State Department which prides itself on its ultra-realism and which therefore favors Red China's entrance into the United Nations on the pragmatic ground that nothing succeeds like success and the torture and murder of American citizens are routine hazards of international relations.

So, Soviet Russia, a member of the United Nations, sent an overpowering army, including tanks which rode roughshod over women and children, into Hungary to repress an uprising of the people for self-government. Never in modern times was an imperialist action so overt, so brutal, so frank.

Did the United Nations impose economic or other sanctions upon Soviet Russia for its genocide in Hungary? Not at all! There were about 10 resolutions concerning Soviet Russia's conduct in Hungary, but Russia flouted them all and laughed at the United Nations and its pretenses at power. Dag Hammarskjöld, its highest official, wished personally to go to Hungary to see what was going on, but they would not admit him. They treated him like what he is, a paid jobholder of an international debating society.

Did our State Department threaten to vote sanctions against Soviet Russia over Hungary? Don't be silly!

Apparently there was even a denial that American radio facilities were used to encourage the Hungarians to declare their independence, although the balloons could not be denied because they are demonstrable. It pays to be a strong power in the United Nations, with a permanent seat on the Security Council and the right of veto, because then it is possible to tell anybody to go to the devil.

India went into Kashmir the way Red China went into Korea and Soviet Russia went into Hungary. The United Nations proposed a plebiscite. India rejected a plebiscite because Nehru calculated that he would lose the plebiscite. Pakistan suggested a U.N. police force to hold Kashmir in escrow. Nehru rejected that, too. In Kashmir, Nehru ceases to be the man of peace, the middle-man among nations, the gentle talking merchant offering the world Nirvana at a price. In Kashmir, Nehru is an imperialist, taking what he can take and sending his devil's disciple, Krishna Menon, to make a seven-hour long speech until nausea overtook that body, accustomed though it is to gargling and retching.

Did the United Nations impose economic sanctions against India for its imperialism and its rejection of United Nations resolutions? Not at all! The United Nations is silent about Kashmir. And the State Department is silent about Kashmir. And the State Department takes its policy from Chester Bowles, the erstwhile huckster who was sent to India to make the United States popular there by word and by giveaway, but who instead has become Nehru's supplementary emissary to the United States. Amazingly, he has not been restored to ambassadorial rank.

It is only against Israel that the United Nations and the State Department seek to impose sanctions perhaps as a challenge to discover whether manna will truly drop from Heaven when the Israeli have nothing to eat but the sand of the Sinai Desert. It does not pay to be small and not to have oil wells and not to have blackmail powers in this current, pragmatic era.

Incurable Cancer?

Newsman's Ideas On Travel Puzzle Officials

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Many officials here are frankly disturbed about the attitude of those few newspapers which are upholding the three American newsmen who defied a restriction imposed by the government here and entered Communist China when their passports were not validated for that purpose.

To defy the government's passport rules on the ground that the press has a right to do as it pleases in foreign travel, even though other citizens are restricted from doing so, is something of a surprise to officials who have always believed all citizens must be dealt with equally. These officials are confident that, if the issue could somehow be submitted to the American people, public opinion would never uphold the view of those who are refusing to go along with the policies of their own government in a delicate matter of international policy involving an enemy government.

As one official put it, the spokesmen for the viewpoint that the omission of visas on American passports can be disregarded in the interest of news-gathering pose the question of whether the press is above any requirement to support patriotically the government here by adhering to the regulations covering foreign travel.

The Supreme Court of the United States, which lays down what is sometimes called the "law of the land," has expressed itself on this very point on several occasions. It said in one case:

"The fact that the publisher handles news while others handle food does not . . . afford the publisher a peculiar constitutional sanctuary in which he can with impunity violate laws regulating his business practices."

"Nor is a publisher who engages in business practices made unlawful . . . entitled to a partial immunity by reason of the 'clear and present danger' doctrine which courts have used to protect freedom of speech, to print, and to worship. . . . formulated as it was to protect liberty of thought and of expression, it would degrade the 'clear and present danger' doctrine to fashion from it a shield for business publishers who engage in business practices condemned by the . . . act."

In another case the Supreme Court, in its opinion, said:

"The publisher of a newspaper has no special immunity from the application of general laws. He has no special privilege to invade the rights and liberties of others. He must answer for libel. He may be punished for contempt of court. He is subject to anti-trust laws. Like others he must pay equitable and nondiscriminatory taxes on his business."

The argument has been advanced by certain members of the press that, while the Department of State has a right to prohibit some citizens from entering Red China — such as businessmen who would engage in transactions prohibited by the laws of Congress — news-gathering stands in a different category and really isn't "business." The Department of State said in its formal statement on the subject:

"If an American reporter entered Communist China on a United States passport, that would violate the restriction of the document on travel in one of the three countries — Bulgaria, Albania and Red China."

Many business men want to travel in China to engage in trade, which now is embargoed. The Congress has acted on the theory that Red China and the United Nations — including this

Eisenhower Didn't Know U.N. Once Criticized Egypt's Israel Blockade

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—The President still seems handicapped by a lack of intimate knowledge regarding important events in the civilian world.

At last week's press conference, he was asked why he would not apply sanctions to Egypt as well as Israel, in view of the fact that Egypt likewise had spurned a United Nations resolution forbidding her ban on Israeli ships through the Suez Canal.

I am not aware of any resolution the UN has enacted to do anything about it, the President replied.

He did not know that on Sept. 1, 1951 the UN Security Council unanimously adopted a resolution calling upon Egypt to cease its ban on Israeli shipping through the Canal. This had the same force as the recent UN resolutions calling upon Israel to withdraw from the Gaza Strip and from the small islands in the Gulf of Aqaba. However, no sanctions were applied to force Egypt to obey, and Israel lacked the economic whip which Colonel Nasser now holds over the West by threatening to close Suez.

What Israel did at the time her own ships were banned from Suez was to develop the Gulf of Aqaba. This is the back door of Israel and is why the two little disputed islands are so important. The Gulf of Aqaba is a long finger of water reaching down from Southern Israel to the Red Sea and thence to the Indian Ocean. By using it, Israel can ship over land, across her own Southern Desert, the Negev, and reach the Orient without using Suez.

This route could also be of tremendous importance if a pipeline was laid across it. Extending all the way over friendly Israeli territory, it would not be subject to Arab interference. Furthermore, a canal rivaling Suez might be built from the Mediterranean to the Gulf of Aqaba—though it would cross hilly terrain and would be expensive.

However, Nasser, after blocking Israeli ships through Suez, then proceeded to seize the strategic islands at the mouth of Aqaba, thereby completely cutting off this vital backdoor route to the Indian Ocean.

This is why Israel refuses to budge from these islands without guarantees they will not fall into hostile Egyptian hands once again.

Dulles' Errors

The current impasse over sanctions at the UN is due to three crucial errors in Dulles-Eisenhower policy. They are:

1. When Nasser first seized the Canal, Dulles failed to treat the Suez question as a package deal. He failed to realize that Suez, peace between the Arabs and Israel, Near East irrigation, dams on the Nile, and British-French canal rights are all wrapped up together. They cannot be solved piecemeal.

2. After the Israeli-Franco-British attack, when Nasser was cringing in a Cairo cellar, he would have accepted any terms. Dulles was then sick. But Eisenhower failed to exact any terms. The package peace plan then would have been much more readily accepted. Eisenhower, however, seems so anxious to prove the United States to be the champion of the Afro-Arab bloc that he rescued Nasser without exacting anything in return.

3. Two weeks ago, when Canada proposed a package resolution whereby Israel was guaranteed UN occupation of the Gaza Strip and the Aqaba islands simultaneous with her withdrawal, the United States refused to back this resolution. The Canadian package plan probably would have been accepted by Israel. But once again the United States went in for piece meal diplomacy.

SYMINGTON WARNS—Senator Symington of Missouri has suggested to Air Force generals that they might be guilty of perjury—if they back down on previous testimony of limping American airpower. Top Air Force brass testified on their needs before Symington's subcommittee last year. Now they are being asked to come to Capitol Hill again to justify the Eisenhower budget cuts—under oath. Symington has notified them that if they change their testimony, he will send the conflicting records to the Justice Department for perjury prosecution.

JAPAN CUTS FARM IMPORTS—American farmers have got it in the neck again. Japan has just informed the USA she is not interested in negotiating a new agreement this year to buy surplus farm commodities. . . . In the last two years Japan has imported 151 million dollars worth of cotton, tobacco, wheat, and American grain. But due to pressure from American textile manufacturers, she has now cut back her exports of cotton cloth to the United States, and in retaliation is now cutting back her imports of surplus food. . . . American manufacturers gain. The farmers lose.

NATURAL GAS BILL — Congressman Oren Harris of Arkansas, author of the controversial Natural Gas Bill, has told friends he won't reintroduce it this year. The bill would boost gas profits at the expense of the housewives, and Harris has confided that he will wait for the Republicans to introduce it and let them get the blame. . . . Eisenhower did not include the gas bill in the first draft of his message to Congress. Then his Texas friends got busy and natural gas was put in at the last minute.

This department is definitely not conducting a campaign against tipping taxicab drivers or persons engaged in any other activity. What we are opposed to is having people dependent on tips to acquire a living income. We would like to see those engaged in all activities in which tips are involved paid a living wage. The tips could then be considered a bonus for unusual services. Also to be considered is the angle of the customer paying a high price for accommodations, food service, etc., and then in addition be expected to help the management take care of its payroll by extra payments in the form of tips.

Why do people who should know better include Kelly on lists of "Irish names"? Kelly is not an Irish name. It is a Manx name. Take the hero of that immortal song titled "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly?" Was Kelly an Irishman? Certainly not. You will recall that he was described in the original version of the song as "Kelly From The Isle of Man."

Queries from clients. Q. Where in New York City did the execution of Nathan Hale take place? A. At what is now the northeast corner of Third Ave. and 66th St., Borough of Manhattan. Q. How much snow fell on New York City in that "great blizzard" of 1888 that the old timers are always talking about? I claim more snow fell on New York City in the blizzard of 1947. How about this? A. You win the argument, sir. In the 1888 blizzard 22 inches of snow fell on the city. In 1947 some 26 inches of snow fell on the Big Town in 24 hours. That is the New York City record.

LONG RUNS

The six stage plays having the longest Broadway runs are: 1. "Life With Father." 2. "Tobacco Road." 3. "Abie's Irish Rose." 4. "Oklahoma." 5. "South Pacific." 6. "Harvey." All of these plays were produced and presented at comparatively recent dates. Yet let it not be assumed that there were no really long runs in New York before this. For example, that classic of the yesteryear titled "The Old Homestead," starring Denman Thompson, ran for three years at the

AMONG THE MARRIED

Now is the time for all good men to decide how their wives are going to look in bathing suits next summer. It takes just about six months to properly streamline a plump wife. First thing to do is to decrease the lady's intake of food. No seconds, of course. Then give a thought to Ty Cobb's suggestion for weight reduction. That is, have the person being streamlined drink a glass of buttermilk before the meal. That will decrease the appetite.

DIVIDENDS

The Pennsylvania Railroad has been paying consecutive cash dividends on its stock since 1848. That is, for 108 years. This, however, is not the record. The Equitable Security Trust Company of Wilmington, Del., has paid dividends without interruption since 1798. That is 158 years. Also the National Newark and Essex Banking Company, Newark, N. J., has been paying consecutive dividends for 152 years.

HORSES AND WOMEN

Women now make up one-third of the working force in the United States. More married women are in that force than ever before in history. That a woman, after marriage, should give up her job and devote herself exclusively to taking care of her home and family seems to have definitely become an old-fashioned idea. However, it is not fair to blame the husbands for this. In the majority of cases it is the wife who wants to cling to her job and a paycheck of her own. It gives her a glorious feeling of independence and also provides the money for more clothes, cosmetics, beauty treatments, etc., than she would be able to afford if the family had only one paycheck.

Child's Coughing Often Caused By Sinusitis

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The average child has one or two bona fide colds a year, and usually makes an uneventful recovery. This is to be expected. But the situation is different when the cold hangs on or the child develops recurrent attacks of croup, bronchitis, or pneumonia.

In the past, these youngsters were given early appointments for tonsil and adenoid removal. Others were sent to the southwest to recuperate and now and then the entire family migrated to a more healthful climate. These plans were successful as a rule but often were unnecessary.

Many youngsters with chronic respiratory diseases have sinusitis. The manifestations are somewhat different from those of adults; consequently the disease is easily missed. The sinuses are not fully developed in early life except for the maxillaries, located below the eyes. The ethmoids and sphenoids are small and the frontals in the forehead are never seen, even with X-ray, until the third year.

But these cavities are not immune to infection. Bacteria consider them favorite spots to dig in and settle down for the winter. Drainage is inadequate because children have an overabundance of adenoidal and tonsillar tissue.

In addition, the germs are forced back into the sinuses whenever mother holds Junior's nose and tells him to blow. Complications occur when the secretions gravitate toward the back of the throat and contaminate the membranes of the larynx and bronchi.

Parents may be unaware of trouble along this line, because when the child is up and about he swallows the mucus. The acid secretions in the stomach usually kill the germs but the wall of the stomach may become irritated. This leads to mild abdominal distress, especially before breakfast and between meals.

At night, the secretions are channeled into the lungs. This leads to cough; the child may not awaken but starts barking with every change in position.

Meanwhile, nasal symptoms continue and sinus infection is suspected when the discharge persists and the breath is bad. Examination, along with X-rays of the sinuses, will be needed to make the diagnosis. Once the

Parsons Protests Removal Of Trains

Progress Reported On Flood Project

PARSONS, W. Va. — The Parsons Chamber of Commerce, meeting in the Court House here recently, took formal action to file a protest against proposed removal of Western Maryland Passenger Trains No. 9 and No. 10 from Elkins to Cumberland. The resolution is being forwarded to the Public Service Commission.

William R. Barrick, president read the resolution, and after brief discussion, during which a number of members and interested citizens voiced their approval of supporting the protest resolution, it was adopted unanimously.

John H. Wilson, city councilman from the First Ward and public relations officer for General Garnett Post No. 4322, VFW, gave a report on the work that had been done to date on the flood control project in the Pulp and Paper Company, but is now owned by the local VFW post.

Mr. Wilson explained that extensive repairs are being made to a dike which separates the old mill pond and Shaver's Fork River. The pond, in years past was a part of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, but is now owned by the local VFW post.

A flood wall some 20 feet high on the river side, 30 feet wide and approximately 200 feet long is being built at the upper end of the dike, where high waters washed away the original flood wall.

The project is sponsored by the city of Parsons with the cooperation of the Parsons Chamber of Commerce and General Garnett Post No. 4322, Veterans of Foreign Wars, owners of the old pulp mill site. Equipment for the work is being rented from the W. Va. State Road Commission and material used to rebuild the flood wall is being obtained from the rubble at the old mill site.

A committee composed of Mayor John Kenny, Mr. Wilson, J. Kenton Lambert, Ken McClain, Luther H. Bennett and R. W. Minear was appointed by the president to contact state road commission officials for permission to use the commission's equipment free of cost, so that further work on the project could be continued.

Mayor Kenny, discussed street lighting problems in the city. He told the group that according to a survey made by representatives of the Monongahela Power Company, 11 lights are needed on First Street. The lights would be placed at intervals from the Moose Hall to the Shaver's Fork Bridge. Cost of burning the lights would be approximately $750 a year.

West Virginia May Overhaul Constitution

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 12 — A proposal looking toward a possible overhaul of West Virginia's 85-year old Constitution was passed in the House today on a voice vote without dissent.

Introduced by Senate President Bean (D-Hardy) and approved earlier by that chamber, the resolution calls for creation of a 48-member commission. The body will study the Constitution with the view of determining what changes are needed, and the most practicable method of bringing them about.

Making up the commission will be the governor, the Senate president and the House speaker, and 15 other persons appointed by each of those three, making a total of 48.

The House also adopted a resolution to send a special legislative committee to Morgantown to inquire into finances of the new medical school under construction at West Virginia University. The resolution now goes to the Senate.

Introduced yesterday by Del. Bowman (D - Greenbrier), the measure would set up a committee of three delegates and three senators to investigate and report back to this session the estimate of construction costs and required finances for the next two years.

Also passed by the House was a pair of highway safety measures, both dealing with drunken driving, which originated with the Joint Democratic Steering Committee.

Passed 96-3 and sent to the governor was a measure providing for chemical tests of blood or urine in drunken driving cases. The measure provides that results of chemical analyses shall be Approved 94-3 by the House was a measure to stiffen the penalties for drunken driving. Although previously passed by the Senate, the bill now goes back for action on House amendments.

Summer Rec Plan Studied

The City Recreation Board last night set up tentative plans for securing the staff for the summer recreation program.

Final plans for securing personnel for playground, pool and ballfield activities will be made at the March meeting.

Discussed last night was the possibility of securing a long-term lease for the Penn Avenue field, so improvements could be financed through bond funds.

Gwynn Fletcher, rec director, was authorized to attend, if feasible, the Governor's Conference on Recreation to be held March 2 in Silver Spring.

A report on the investigation of properties which have possibilities as recreation sites was presented.

The board accepted the annual report and reports for December and January.

School Board Approves Use Of Auditoriums

Permission for use of two public high school auditoriums or coming musical programs was granted yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Education.

The Cumberland Symphony Orchestra received permission to stage its mid-winter concert Tuesday, February 19, in the Fort Hill High School auditorium.

The Cumberland Choral Society was granted permission to use the Allegany High School auditorium for a concert April 1 which will feature a native of Cumberland. He is John Duke, head of the piano department at Smith College, Northampton, Mass., who has been on the college faculty there since 1924.

Mr. Duke will play a number of his original compositions on the piano. A native of Cumberland and a graduate of Allegany High School, he is a brother of Henry K. Duke, local insurance agent.

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster and Joseph M. Miller, one of the board members, reported on the meeting they had last Thursday in Annapolis with State Senator Charles M. See and the six members of the County Delegation concerning the county's new $1,200,000 school building program. Half of the cost will come from state incentive funds and the rest will be borrowed by the county from a state loan fund.

Mr. Webster and Kenneth R. Malcolm, president of the Board of Education, are planning to attend the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators in Atlantic City, N. J., starting Friday. Assistant Superintendent Richard T. Rizer and Lewyn C. Davis, supervisor of junior high schools, also are planning to attend. William A. Gunter, this city, a member of the State Board of Education, also will attend.

Stabbing Victim Is Reported 'Improved'

Herbert Allen Yow of Cresaptown was reported to be slightly improved and in "fair" condition last night at Sacred Heart Hospital.

Yow was stabbed in the left side and arm in a dispute which took place with a neighbor, Vernon R. Strickland, outside the apartment house in which the two men live.

Strickland, who has been charged with assault with intent to kill, will be given a hearing today in Trial Magistrate Court for the purpose of setting bond pending action of the April grand jury.

Friday Games

Bruce at Valley	73-70
Mt. Savage at Beall	64-54

Allegany High's Campers had their hands full disposing of a scrappy Bruce High quint at Westernport, 73-70, but Valley High's Black Knights had no trouble turning back Beall High's Mountaineers last night at Lonaconing, 64-54, and the W.M.I. Basketball League championship race remained tied with only one more game for each team before the regular season draws to a close Friday night.

Last night's wins for Allegany and Valley kept the teams tied at the head of the league with 7-2 records.

Like Bruce's basement dwellers, Fort Hill's Sentinels also surprised by holding the rampaging Mt. Savage Indians to a 58-54 score as Coach John Thomas' club won its fourth consecutive league game and tied Beall for third place at 4-4.

In the contest at Westernport, Allegany jumped off to a 7-0 lead but Bruce came back to tie it up at 8-8. The score also was knotted at 12-12 and 16-16, Bruce forged to the front at 20-19 and Mike Lease's basket put the Campers on the long end of a 21-20 score as the first period ended. Allegany led throughout the second period and held a 7-point advantage at 30-23. At one point in the third stanza the Shawmen were seven points in front at 49-42 but at the close of the quarter Allegany's margin was reduced to a single point at 52-51.

Several times in the final quarter the lead changed hands before Allegany pulled the game out of the fire. Bruce led at 52-51, Allegany was in front at 53-52, the Bulldogs held the edge at 54-53 and the Campers never were headed after they pulled out in front at 55-54. With 17 seconds left to play, Bruce trailed by a single point and Jim Deremer meshed two fouls to give AHS a three-point margin at the final whistle.

Win At Foul Line
Each team scored 28 field goals but Allegany outpointed the home team at the charity line, 17 to 14. Carl Brown and Kenny Johnson were Allegany's leading point-makers with 20 and 16. Five Bruce players scored in double figures, Donnie Wilkinson sparking the attack with 15 points while Clyde Beard had 14, Ron Wiltson 13, Ed Carder 12 and Lynn Morris 10. Bill Wright of Bruce exited on personal fouls in the final quarter.

Hoop 18 of 21 Fouls
Valley sank 18 of 21 foul shots and outscored Beall 23 to 19 from the field in sweeping its season series with the Mountaineers.

Ronnie Young led the Valley attack with 16 points while John Johnson and George Lauder collected 14 points each. Jack Parker was Beall's top scorer with 13 points. Ball garnered 11 points and Allen had 10.

Beall converted 16 of 25 shots at the charity line.

Indians Even Series
Mt. Savage gained revenge for an earlier defeat in Cumberland by winning a close one from Fort Hill on the Mt. Savage floor.

The score was knotted at 23, 25, 29, 31, 39, 41, 45, 51 and 54 before a late rally decided the issue. Jim Henckel's field goal and two foul goals by Roy Hott settled the issue in Mt. Savage's favor after the score had been tied for the ninth time.

Henckel scored 17 points to pace Mt. Savage and George Bishields and Jim Harden had 15 each. Junior O'Neal was Fort Hill's "big gun" with 21 markers while Charley Robinson collected 13.

Fort Hill's Jayvees defeated Mt. Savage by the score of 54-32.

Harman Rallies To Clip Bayard
HARMAN, W. Va., Feb. 12 — Harman High put on a last period rally here tonight to come from behind and down Bayard High School. The score was 53 to 44.

Wolford led Harman with 14 points and Cooper, Smith and White each had 10. Kuhn was the high man for the losers, collecting a total of 20 markers.

Bayard led throughout the contest, but the locals outscored Bayard, 16-5 in the final quarter.

Brown Defends Title Tonight Against Smith

Miami Beach Scene Of Lightweight Go

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 12 (AP)—Joe Brown's right hand and Wallace (Bud) Smith's legs are the main factors in tomorrow night's 15-round lightweight title match in which Brown is a top-heavy favorite to retain the crown he took from Smith in August.

Chris Dundee, co-promoter with the International Boxing Club, expects a sellout crowd of 4,000 and a $20,000 gross gate at the Miami Beach Auditorium which will be housing its first championship fight.

Miami and the surrounding area will be blacked out of the TV picture but the rest of the nation will get network (ABC) coverage on radio and TV starting at 10 p.m. EST.

When Brown, 30, stripped Smith, 27, of his title, Aug. 24 at New Orleans the battle was scored by rounds and resulted in a split decision. Under Miami Beach rules, scoring will be by the "must 10" point system in which the winner of a round gets 10 points and the loser 9, 8 and so on. Total points after 15 rounds determines the winner with a referee and two judges voting.

As the fighters are signed to 30-30 contracts for the match, each will get about $5,000 from the gate and another $9,000 from TV or a total purse close to $14,000. The automatic eight-count rule has been waived for the contest and six-ounce gloves will be used.

Brown's right hand is the only questionable factor in the champ's bid to retain his title. The odds favoring Brown vary from 3 to 1 all the way up to 4 to 1 with little action.

Hartack Rides Four Winners

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 12 (AP)—Willie Hartack, the 1955-56 riding champion, who is leading the list currently at Hialeah Park, enjoyed his most successful afternoon of the winter today by riding four winners, a second and a third out of seven mounts. This brought his meeting total to 27 winners.

Thompson, Richards To Receive Gifts At Midland Dinner

Richards, the property of the Chicago White Sox, is a minor league pitching star and is slated for a trial with Indianapolis of the American Association in the spring. Both athletes are graduates of Beall High School.

Saturday's program will be climaxed with a dance at the Midland Legion Home, commencing at 8:45 o'clock.

Weeper's Boy, $39 For $2, Cops Bowie Feature Race

Handle $938,689 For Opening Day

BOWIE, Md., Feb. 12 (AP)—Brilliant sunshine, 33 degree temperature and Weeper's Boy, $39 for $2 winner in the $11,225 Abraham Lincoln Handicap, greeted a crowd of 12,700 today as Bowie began the earliest racing meeting ever for a major Eastern track.

Gambling with the weather, while the crowd did the same on the ponies, the Bowie management got what it asked for, although the air was a bit brisk.

It had snowed yesterday, and the weather was down to the 20 degree mark in early morning, but the track was clear and good for the first four races, and fast thereafter.

In the 5 1/2 furlongs Abe Lincoln 11 older horses started, and Mrs. Ben Cohen's War Age went off as the 6-5 favorite, only to finish out of the money leading part of the way and into the final stretch.

Then Weeper's Boy, a chestnut 4-year-old owned by Wayne Kendrick, Washington attorney, began laying down the law.

The son of Loser Weeper—Ginome took over an eighth of a mile from home and barely got under the wire by a head margin over Ella K. Bryson's Kinda Smart, the 7-2 second choice. Jack Amiel's Mr. Turf, a New York invader, finished third, another length and a half away.

The winner, making his first start since Pimlico last Dec. 14, paid $39, $14.80 and $7.60 and packed 109 pounds. Kinda Smart with 113 pounds, returned $5.60 and $3.80 while Mr. Turf, with 116, was $5.20 to show.

Today's total handle was $938,689, as compared with the $887,108 wagered on opening Day March 8 of last year.

PVC Games Set For Ft. Ashby, Keyser Tonight

Potomac Hosts A-B, Rebels Face Hubs

Piedmont plays at Fort Ashby and Moorefield visits Keyser in a pair of Potomac Valley Conference games set for tonight.

Piedmont is 9-2 in the P.V.C. and is still in the running for the title. The Lions play a 14-game schedule. West Virginia School for the Deaf could sew up the title by beating Romney High on Monday. The WVDS quint leads the race with an 8-1 record.

North Hagerstown plays South Hagerstown tonight in a game that could determine Washington county's representation in the Class "A" district tourney next month in the Hub City.

Coach Mel Henry's North Hagerstown quint holds a 61-49 decision over the Rebels and can sew up the Class "A" berth with another win tonight. A victory for Paul Flick's team, however, would mean a playoff battle for the title. Allegany and Frederick already have qualified for the district tourney March 8-9.

Music To Hate

"Do you get boiling mad every time you hear classical music?" inquires the announcer. "Heh! Heh! Heh! Well, you'll feel right at home here for this is classical music for people who hate the stuff." Such is the teaser opening for a program called "Classical Music For People Who Hate Classical Music."

Both title and introduction are purposely misleading in order to challenge a few people who think they hate music into listening to a little of it and perhaps learning not to hate it. But it is also listened to by a good many music lovers, partly for the music which is excellent, partly for George Marek, author and director of record albums for RCA Victor, who spices the program with his comments.

"Puccini was in love with most of his heroines," he'll tell you. "He loved Mimi, the accommodating seamstress in 'La Boheme.' Best, when she meets the young poet Rodolfo she tells him the story of her life, and as she tells it she asks a question that millions of women ask every day. She says 'Are you paying attention?' Rodolfo says — this being in Italian — 'Si, 'Yes.' So the famous aria is technically a duet, but the tenor has got only one word and the lady has the rest. This shows that opera is sometimes true to life."

That's the sort of story Marek loves to tell as a preface to — in this case — the Puccini aria. As a rule the music he selects is pretty well known and very digestible even for music-haters — but not always so. He likes to ask his listeners to write in and tell him what music they hate most — and he'll play it for them. And he does.

"Even the most profound hater of classical music knows this one," he'll say, "if he ever had a mother — and many did." Between taking digs at the music-haters like this, he tells them anecdotes like the one about Mark Twain who was invited to hear "Tristan" by a talkative dowager. "I'd be delighted," said Twain. "I've never heard you in 'Tristan.'"

Or a piece of music will remind him of an Italian critic who thought no German could sing. "Somebody took him to hear Henrietta Sontag, the great German soprano. After a few minutes he put on his hat and got up. 'What?' said his friend. 'Is she that bad?' Why don't you give her a chance?' 'I'm not going to stay,' said the critic. 'I might have to change my opinion.'"

Remarks like that might just possibly help to change the opinions of his audience. As will the music. Marek is not afraid to play the trite. "All the music on today's program is very famous," he'll declare. "In my life I've made one profound discovery. There is usually a very good reason why something is famous. It's good. It has vitality. The 'Anvil Chorus' from Verdi's 'Il Trovatore' has been so thoroughly battered about in so many ways that we thought we'd play it for you as written. The words are not very important. They may be summarized in an informal English translation like this: 'What do they sing about? They sing about the gypsies.'"

If you hate good music — or even if you don't — you'll find the program and Mr. Marek on NBC radio 9:30 p. m. EST Mondays.

Speaking of radio, every time I say that radio has lost most of its audience I'm belted by people who still listen and who claim radio still has one. Well, it has, but I speak only of the vast audience it had in the '30's" when a single program could command the attention of thirty million people. Those days are over forever. Radio has not entirely lost its popularity but it has lost its influence.

One reader who disagrees that radio is dead has an interesting point, though. "I have a hunch that radio has gone through a cycle similar to that of the phonograph record when it was pushed aside with the advent of radio broadcasting," he writes.

"Personally, I have gone through a period of being completely taken with television, reached the point where I was thoroughly fed up with it, boycotted it, then started watching television in a very selective way, then began to listen to radio again in addition to watching a few television shows. I find that I now listen to radio much more than I watch television and I find the former generally more enjoyable. I do not believe that my experience with the two media is unique."

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Across the desk your most-seen 9-5 look — Monday through Friday — should also be a pretty, crisp, and well-groomed one.

Job Security

Continuing our discussion of yesterday, it's no longer news when a woman succeeds in the business world. But there are still too many that don't. They may be well-groomed and have an attractive appearance for securing a job, but many times they overlook the importance of the attitude they're "wearing."

Of course, if an employer is a good interviewer he makes every effort to put the applicant at ease. But we shouldn't depend on the employer to hand us our job — we should seek it. In doing this we have to establish in ourselves an awareness of our best qualities... that which we can call a positive attitude, because we have a knowledge of what abilities are really there.

In the first place, we must know specifically what our best asset is. For example, if ability to handle others is your best asset, then your direction for looking for work should be in this line. If we stay with the thing we know best and do not seek other pastures, we naturally achieve greater sense of security.

Whatever job we have, we should strive to exercise initiative, judgement, imagination, and tact. The latter is most important. It is the wise person who anticipates the boss's wishes and manages him and the office work so it all gets out on schedule.

A few hints on what bosses don't like include: Too many personal phone calls, long coffee breaks, noisy chatter in the office, office gossip and tardiness. A lot more tips are given in my booklet, compiled just for you, "Your Steps to a Successful Career." A copy is yours for 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to me at this newspaper.

Tomorrow—Inviting lips.

The bidding:
South West North East
1 spade Pass 2 spades Pass
4 spades Pass Pass
South succeeded in winning a match for his team in a recent tournament by making an over-trick in his game contract of four spades. The bidding was the same at both tables, but when the opposition played this hand, they succeeded in taking only 10 tricks, and thus lost the deal by 30 points.

The duce of spades was opened and taken by declarer, who returned a trump. West took the ace and shifted to the jack of clubs. On the surface it appears that two club tricks must be lost in addition to the ace of trumps. However, if East holds both the queen and ten of hearts, some pressure may be exerted upon him inasmuch as West's club play makes it appear that East holds the remaining honors in that suit.

If he let go it is obvious that a club trick must be lost at all events, and now was the only available time to give it up. Declarer therefore ducked the jack of clubs and West continued the suit.

Declarer took the ace and drew the last trump. After cashing the diamonds, he led another trump. The situation was this:

Governor Won't Testify On Driver Permits

Action Would Be 'Entirely Improper'

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 12 (AP) — The controversy over re-examining and relicensing Maryland drivers simmered on in the Legislature today.

These were among the developments:

1. Gov. McKeldin declined to appear before a House committee he criticized for killing a bill to require re-examination of drivers every three years. He said it would be "entirely improper" and unnecessary for him to testify.

2. A new bill appeared in the House to permit the Department of Motor Vehicles to re-register Maryland drivers by mail in order to clear its file of obsolete licenses.

3. A Baltimore senator contended the department already has authority under existing law to re-examine and re-register drivers.

4. A Baltimore woman wrote the House Judiciary Committee that she had clocked Gov. McKeldin's limousine doing 75 m.p.h. on Revell Highway—"cutting in and out passing traffic"—the day after he accused legislators of taking "a cavalier view . . . toward important safety bills."

Bill Was Killed

It all stemmed from a meeting of the House Judiciary Committee last Thursday, at which the committee turned thumbs down on a bill to require re-examination and re-registration of drivers every three years.

State agencies had clashed over merits of the bill. The Department of Motor Vehicles and the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission urged its passage to get "unfit" drivers off the highways and bring motor vehicle files up to date.

State Police said it would be ineffective as a safety measure, would inconvenience many innocent motorists and would cost the state money that could be better spent on other safety measures.

Committee members reviewed these arguments in deciding 13-6 against the bill.

Governor Was Shocked

McKeldin said that afternoon he was "shocked" at the action and took the committee to task for not at least making necessary amendments to salvage a compulsory registration and some form of re-examination of certain drivers.

Committee Chairman Simpkins (D-Somerset) wrote the governor a letter Friday inviting him to appear before the committee on any traffic safety measures to clear up "confusion" created by departments of his own administration.

In a reply made public by Simpkins today, McKeldin recalled that he had endorsed the principle of driver re-examination in his State-of-the-State speech to the Assembly Jan. 2.

"Certainly the refining of proposed legislation is a committee job," he said. "I will not, of course, appear before the Judiciary or any other legislative committee because I feel to do so would be entirely improper."

"Lifetime" License

Meanwhile, Del. Tydings (D-Harford), a member of the committee, introduced a bill which would permit the Motor Vehicles Department to re-register all drivers by mail in order to clear its files of deadwood. There was testimony that this is the only state which gives a "lifetime" driver's license.

But at the same time in the Senate Finance Committee, Sen. Bertorelli (D-Balto 1st) was contending the department already has that authority and can call in for re-examination any drivers it wishes.

The letter accusing McKeldin of speeding on U.S. 50 was signed Mae W. Dietrich, Baltimore, who said she had read news accounts of the feud over safety between the committee and the governor.

McKeldin Unaware

She said she and group of friends were proceeding along the highway toward the Bay Bridge about 4:30 p.m. Friday when a car "sped by us."

"We noticed it was the governor's car—we wanted to check his speed and we tailed him at 75 m.p.h. cutting in and out passing traffic," the letter said.

"The question is 'Why should a governor be allowed to speed on the highway of Maryland a citizen is not allowed?' Is that the proper safety example to set for the citizens of Maryland?"

Advised of the letter, McKeldin said tonight he was not aware of it if his car was speeding. He is chauffeured by State Police and frequently works or does in the back seat on trips.

He said he has issued written and verbal instructions in the past for his drivers not to exceed the speed limit and will renew those instructions.

Cpl. Mike Kaplow, who was driving the limousine last Friday, flatly denied Mrs. Dietrich's charge.

"I was not speeding," he said. "If she had to go 75 miles an hour to catch up with us after we had passed her that is no indication I was going 75."

Garrett County Dispute Goes To High Court

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 12 (AP) — A Garrett County commissioner told the Court of Appeals today he is not a partner in a drilling firm which was given a contract by the commissioners, acting as the County Road Board.

Aubrey C. Brenneman sought release from a Garrett County Circuit Court injunction preventing him from acting as a member of the road board during discussions on the balance due his son, John J. Brenneman, for drilling work at Bishop's quarry.

The injunction was obtained by Commissioner Irvin Roth, who said he brought suit after "becoming suspicious as to the interest of (Commissioner) Brenneman in the drilling business supposed to be conducted by his son . . . alone."

John J. Brenneman was paid $8,000 for drilling rock at the quarry as preparation for obtaining limestone for road work. There is an unpaid balance of $16,438 for the job.

Roth said Commissioner Brenneman's interest, "either direct or indirect," in the contract should prohibit him under state law from acting on it as a commissioner.

The Garrett County Commissioners also served as the County Road Board.

Commissioner Brenneman said he severed his relationship with the A. C. Brenneman and Son drilling business when he received the Republican nomination for county commissioner.

Creative Future Needs Planning, Says Rec Chief

Cities must begin now to plan for the creative living of the future if they are to survive, Gwynn Fletcher, city recreation director, said last night in a speech before the South Cumberland Business Men's Association.

In an address on the place of recreation in modern life, Mr. Fletcher said the facilities for creative living must be planned if cities are to escape the vicious circle which has caused some cities to reduce services to citizens as costs rise and revenues drop.

Parks, playgrounds and other recreational facilities, he said, will play an increasingly important part in community life two decades from now, when higher income and a shorter work week give people more time for creative living.

Emphasizing that it was strictly a personal opinion, Mr. Fletcher suggested that under the Commission form of government, the City of Cumberland could plan for the creative living of the future with five administrative divisions.

They would include the Department of Public Safety, Department of Public Works, an Administrative Department, under direction of the Mayor, aided by Law, Personnel and Finance units; a Department of Planning and Zoning and a Department of Parks and Recreation.

Cities of today, he said, are expected to provide many services unknown when the 19th Century began.

He said the City of Detroit provided 23 services for its citizens in 1924, 394 in 1940 and 470 in 1950, and that all were supported by tax funds.

Urban problems have multiplied with the years, he recounted in a brief history of the industrial revolution.

In 1900, as population stood at the 17 million mark, 21 per cent of the people lived in urban areas while in 1950, as population rose to 165 millions, 56.5 per cent of the people crowded into the cities and towns.

As the cities became larger, Mr. Fletcher said, cities had to operate playgrounds since the open fields and large back yards which once served as play areas disappeared.

As congestion increased, people began to move to the suburbs from cities which failed to provide attractive living conditions.

Business and industry also began to move out, reducing revenues of the cities.

It became a vicious circle, Fletcher said, as cities reduced services in the face of dropping revenues and found they were only encouraging the flight to the suburbs.

This is the situation Cumberland faces, he said.

Medical Care Provided For 13,617 Persons

Cost In Allegany Highest In State

Residents of Allegany County have made good use of the Medical Care program which is provided through the State Department of Health for those who cannot afford to pay for health services.

Records of the Allegany County Health Department show that 13,617 persons, or about 15 per cent of the present population, have been on the Medical Care rolls at one time or another since the program was instituted in 1945.

At present, the rolls of the Medical Care program in Allegany County include between 2,500 and 2,800 persons, depending upon needs.

Cost Highest Here

Two groups are eligible for the free medical and dental services. Those carried on the relief rolls are automatically entitled to Medical Care services. The medically indigent, whose incomes are insufficient to provide adequate medical attention, are placed on the rolls from time to time and according to their needs.

The cost of the program in Allegany County is the highest of all the 23 counties.

In December, the Medical Care program cost $11,323.37 in Allegany County, with Baltimore County running second at $8,547.01 and Washington County third with costs totaling $7,358.75.

For the first six months of the current fiscal year, the program cost $62,065.33 in Allegany County as Baltimore County spent $43,652.62 and Washington County $36,130.66.

Other States Follow

To administer the program in the counties, the State of Maryland appropriated $841,149, and $381,473, or slightly less than half of the funds were spent at the end of December.

During December, the program paid $5,178.57 to physicians for medical services to Medical Care patients, $526 to dentists, $5,618.78 to pharmacists and $12.50 for special services at hospitals.

The Medical Care program pays for services provided to those on its rolls at reduced rates.

The program was pioneered by the State of Maryland and has been adopted by a number of other states.

Adjustments Made In Gas Rate By PSC

Customer Refund Is Termed Unjust

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 12 (AP)—The Public Service Commission has made minor downward adjustments in a new rate scale it approved Jan. 12 for Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Co.

An order on that date, after prolonged hearings in a heavily contested rate proceeding, gave C. & A. increases designed to raise its annual revenues by $420,617.

The company had sought higher rates designed to provide about $765,000 more a year from customers in about 10 northern and central West Virginia counties.

The new PSC action modified the rate scale to decrease by about $1,785 the amount of revenue it would bring in a year.

The action was based on a new rate structure approved by the Federal Power Commission for Atlantic Seaboard Corp., from which Cumberland & Allegheny purchases substantial gas supplies.

The new rates for Atlantic Seaboard, the PSC explained, would reduce the C. & A. cost of service as determined in the recent rate case by the $1,700 amount.

At the same time, the PSC declined to require that any amount refunded C. and A. by Atlantic Seaboard be returned to C. & A. customers.

The Federal Power Commission order resulted in a refund to C. & A. which included $6,695 assignable to West Virginia sales for the period of Dec. 1, 1955 to Oct. 31, 1956.

The Inter-Community League of Central West Virginia organization which was the chief proponent in the long rate case, urged that the $6,695 be passed along to C. & A. customers through refunds. The PSC said, however, that C. & A. earned very little during the 1954 test period of the rate case, as well as for a large portion of 1955, and that any such refund would be unjust.

PSC Answers Rate Appeal In Gas Case

The Maryland Public Service Commission has filed an answer in the gas rate appeal in Allegany County Circuit Court which denies that its order of last November 9 raising the rates charged by the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company were "illegal, invalid and unreasonable."

The Mayor and City Council of Cumberland and the County Commissioners of Allegany County used this language January 7 in appealing the PSC decision. Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, and Gorman E. Getty, county attorney, argued in their petition that the PSC order constituted a gross abuse of discretion on the part of the commission.

Failure and refusal to properly evaluate the evidence before it was charged to the PSC in the city-county appeal.

Since the appeal was docketed more than a month ago a motion has been granted to make the C&A Gas Company a party defendant in the appeal along with the PSC. The PSC answer was filed by Leon H. Pierson of Baltimore, attorney for the PSC which includes Stanford Hoff, chairman; Frank Harper and Wilmer Fell Davis.

New Girl Scout Camp To Open This Summer

Development Plans Are Under Way

The Girl Scouts of Cumberland Council will camp this summer for the first time on their new campsite near Flintstone, according to plans now being formulated by the council's established camp committee.

A well is being dug, sanitary facilities installed and other improvements are under way, so that the annual summer camping session can be held on "home ground." For the past 20 or more years, the Girl Scouts have camped on rented, leased or borrowed campsites.

The new camp, 94½ acres along Flintstone Creek, is nestled in the hills three miles north of Flintstone and borders on the Mason-Dixon line on the south. It is divided into two tracts, one 78¼ acres, separated by a county road from another tract of 15¼ acres which borders on the Buchanan State Forest in Pennsylvania.

Easily Accessible

The site is easily accessible over good dirt roads. To reach it, it is necessary to travel to Flintstone, turn north at Flintstone Creek and follow this road for three miles. A sharp left turn takes the visitor into the campsite. There are several buildings, including a barn, which will be converted into a recreation hall and a large farm house which will be changed into an administration building and dining hall.

Miss Olive Hurlbut, scout executive, said it is planned to accommodate a maximum of 50 campers at each session this summer. A 12-day session will be held for Intermediate and Senior Scouts July 7-19.

A one-week session for Intermediates, and the beginning of Counselor-In-Training course will be held July 21-27.

A 12-day session for Brownie, Intermediate and the Counselors-In-Training will be held July 28-August 9.

A final week session for Brownies will be held August 11-17.

Do-Dads To Go To Work

Members of the Do-Dads, composed largely of scout fathers and interested friends of scouting, will be activated this spring to get the camp in readiness. A. J. Cioni is chairman of the Do-Dads.

If weather permits improvements to be completed, an open house or visitors day is planned for April, when all interested persons will be welcomed by members of the camp committee and taken on tours of the site.

Camp folders will be ready for distribution shortly, Miss Hurlbut said, after which camp registrations will be accepted. She predicts that since this is the first year for the new camp, the demand for registrations will be much heavier than usual, and added it has been increasing steadily anyway the past few years.

Registrations for out-of-council Scouts will be accepted after May 15 if there are vacancies. Camp fees will remain the same as last year.

Camp staff members, cooks, counselors, and other assistants are now being recruited and applications are available at the Girl Scout House, Greene Street.

One-Three Inches Of Snow Forecast For District

One to three inches of snow is forecast for the northern portion of Maryland early this morning. Snow began falling last night in Garrett County and the Frostburg area.

Route 40 west of Frostburg was covered with snow and there were a few tie-ups of commercial trucks on the mountains. State Roads Commission crews were out cinderling the slippery highway.

The ground was snow-covered in the Oakland area, as well as in Frostburg, although in Cumberland only a few flurries were noticeable. About an inch of snow had fallen in the Somerset, Pa., area by 9 p. m. and it was still falling.

Allegheny Front along U. S. Route 50 was slippery as new snow was falling, covering some icy spots. Unofficially the temperature in Cumberland was 37 degrees at 10 p. m. The temperature is expected to drop to the mid-20s during the night, but may go into the 40s today.
